DEDICATION

With both teachers and students, friendliness and understanding have become characteristic of Marshall Fishwick. A man whose willingness to devote his time and efforts to so many worthy endeavors must be recognized as a positive, driving force, permeating the atmosphere of Washington and Lee.

In the field of American studies, he stands as a provocative symbol of this institution's forward movement toward a well-rounded program of individual development. His lectures achieve the all important goal of inspiring critical thought among students. Not only in the classroom, but also in his office and home, his hospitality is well-known and appreciated.

In a short time his versatile personality has been manifested in almost every phase of campus life; thus, with humility and a deep sense of gratitude we dedicate this, the 1954 CALYX, to Dr. Marshall Fishwick.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

MAY 25 '54

To the Seniors:

The college yearbook gathers and preserves a wide variety of the important elements of academic life. Here are the views of places you love, pictures of people you admire, summaries of undertakings in which you had conspicuous part.

Such a book holds promise of singular and lovely enhancement of value. Hurrying years bring the mutations of life but here is the immutable record of a significant period; and the record grows ever more precious as seen through lengthening perspective.

Such a book is more than brief history. It is a treasury of remembrance. It could be, moroever, a power-house of the soul, for renewals of strong purpose. May this particular book bring to each of you largest joy and finest enrichment.

FRANCES P. GAINES

GORDON LEGGETT	Secretary
BOB PFAFF	Recorder

MRS. DAVIS MARTIN	House Mother

Rho Chapter of Beta Theta Pi was founded at Washington College in 1856 . . . inactivated in 1860, as members joined the Liberty Hall Volunteers . . . 1876 reactivated, taking the name of Alpha Rho.

1921 . . . reactivated . . . led by Donald Blaine and James Howe (son of the present Retired Dr. Howe of this University) . . . Trident Club formed . . . accepted in Beta Theta Pi as Alpha Rho Chapter.

The Betas have always been known as one of the strongest and most diversified of the fraternities at W&L . . . Betas have permeated into the scholastic, social, athletic, and other campus activities. At present five members have been tapped by O.D.K.; Bill Guthrie, Jack Osborne, Jim Conner, Roy Herrenkohl, and Beau Redmond. Bill was editor of last year's CALYX and is a member of the Executive Committee. Jack is a past president of Fancy Dress. Roy is President of the Christian Council. Jim is a member of the Executive Committee, and Beau was President of Fancy Dress. Ray Smith is editor of Shenandoah; Jim Gabler is editor of The W&L Lawyer, and Jim Reeder is Battalion Commander of the R.O.T.C.

In the field of sports there are Dick Johnson, Ding Woodring, Jim Conner, Dick Gwathmey, Guy Drake, and Dick O'Connell in Lacrosse. Dick Johnson and Andy Bill Dalton are members of the Soccer team, with "Butch" Calloway in Basketball, and Pat Patrick in Swimming.

Besides being prominent, Alpha Rho is a fraternity in the true sense of the word . . . genuine fellowship exists among her men . . . a good share of the truly home-like atmosphere must be given to our wonderful housemother, Mrs. Martin . . . she has added that final touch that gives the true zest to everything we do . . . and her appreciation of the honors which the chapter has gained is a treasured and honored feeling . . . she is our "Mom."

Phi Chapter of Delta Tau Delta was established at Washington and Lee in 1896. Ever since, the Chapter has had an outstanding reputation among the University Greek-Letter fraternities. Character, excellence, and versatility are the watchwords which have produced this.

This past year found Phi Chapter eminent for its leadership in every field of campus endeavor. Bill McHenry, Vice-President of the Commerce School, and Watty Bowes, Executive Committeeman for the Junior class, were tapped by ODK. Bob Smith, ODK President, and Clay Carr were on the Christian Council Executive Committee. Southern Collegian staff posts were held by Fred Easter and Mike Clark. Rich Berry was initiated into Phi Eta Sigma.

In sports, the Delts were just as active. Jim Lewis and Bill Boyle captained the Varsity and Freshman Soccer teams, respectively. Gibby McSpadden and John Ellis produced the two top records on the Wrestling team. Outstanding on the Basketball squad was Bob McHenry. Perhaps the best known sports event was the drafting of Bill McHenry, captain of the 1953 Football team, by the Washington Redskins.

An important addition to the shelter was the charming personality of Mrs. Louise P. Faulkner who joined us as House Mother in September.

Even more important than these accomplishments, however, is the feeling of brotherhood that pervades Phi Chapter. Men from many different localities and of many different aspirations find in it the stimulus and approval to urge them to their highest capacities. This is a fraternity in the true meaning of the word.

Delta Upsilon was founded at Williams College in 1834. The Washington and Lee Chapter was chartered in 1930 from an organization known as the Arcades Club.

Just twenty-four years old, Delta Upsilon is the youngest fraternity on the W&L Campus. Its membership numbers 53, among whom are Cy Barcellona, John Pipkin, back and guard for Coach Carl Wise's Generals, John Turner and Herb Hummers of the Basketball team, Jack Sites and Allen Harrison of the Wrestling team, Kent Horner, Chairman of the Friends of the Library and treasurer of the Interfraternity Council; Harry Grim, business manager of the Law Review and Executive Committeeman, and Cecil Edmonds, managing editor of the Southern Collegian and the Ring-tum Phi.

The Washington and Lee Chapter just moved into its new 28-room home in 1953, after several years of conscientious alumni work and organization. The house today is one of the finest on the campus.

In scholarship, intramurals, extra-curricular activities, and social life, Delta Upsilon is among the campus leaders. The fraternity has three major house parties—the Christmas Formal, the Spring Costume, and the May Open.

D.U.'s on the faculty are Dr. Allen E. Ragan, Mr. Edwin Howard, Mr. R. N. Latture, Dr. G. H. Foster, and Coaches Cy Twombly and Dick Miller.

Since its founding on this campus, Delta Upsilon has initiated over 300 men who have enriched the chapter with many fine traditions still prevalent today.

At Washington College in December of 1865, four students, James W. Wood, Stanhope M. Scott, William N. Scott, and William A. Walsh, founded the Alpha Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Order. They met daily in the room of William Walsh in the South Dormitory of the College, which is now Robinson Hall.

The first regular meeting place of the four founders was the Ann Smith Academy in Lexington. In 1868, the Beta Chapter of the Order was founded at V.M.I. As the fraternity expanded, Alpha found she could not control all of the new chapters, so a national headquarters was established in Louisville, Kentucky.

At the time the order was founded, General Lee was President of the College, and it is to him that the Kappa Alpha Order owes much of its tradition and high idealism that still prevails throughout the customs and ritual. Robert E. Lee has been considered the spiritual founder of the Order, for had it not been for the guidance offered by him to the four young men who conceived the Order, we could not stand united.

Also due to General Lee's influence, chapters in the Order are limited to the southern area of the United States as a fitting tribute to the cause for which he fought.

Today the Kappa Alpha Order consists of eighty-one active chapters with a total membership of over 35,000.

Kappa Sigma was founded at the University of Virginia in 1896. Today, there are 126 active chapters and 65,000 members. Mu Chapter was established on the Washington and Lee campus in 1873 and has played an active role in campus activities ever since.

Upon reviewing the past year, we find that it has been a full and successful one. Outstanding members on campus . . . John Bowman, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, student representative on the Athletic Committee . . . Ellis Drew, Sophomore Executive Committeeman, Co-chairman of the World University Service Drive. In R.O.T.C. . . . John Bowman and Norm Dobyns . . . Captains . . . Rudy Stutzman . . . the rank of Battalion Major. Frank Hundley, Vice-President of the IFC . . . Norm Dobyns, President of Sigma Delta Chi . . . Dave Henderson, member of the Assimilation Committee.

Athletically, Kappa Sig has members on the Varsity Soccer, Swimming, Baseball, and Track teams—plus very active intramural squads in all phases.

Socially, our yearly highlight being the Black and White Ball was preceeded and followed by numerous other house-parties and picnics. Our most gracious and considerate housemother, Mrs. W. J. Jordan, has added much to our fraternity life through her unending devotion to us. We are all looking forward with great anticipation for her return for her seventh year with us.

Rushing this year was rewarded by the pledging of a strong and active freshman class. Already, they have found for themselves positions of honor and leadership on the W&L campus.

With the passing of the school year, we feel that the brothers and alumni of Kappa Sigma can be proud of Mu Chapter.

In 1909, Lambda Chi Alpha was founded at Boston University by three outstanding law students who had become good friends. Today, just 45 years later, thanks to strong and able leadership, Lambda Chi Alpha boasts 144 chapters throughout the United States and Canada—the largest social fraternity in the world.

This year Gamma Phi Chapter gained recognition for its progressive pledge training, for its second place campus scholastic average, and for a first place award for the chapter's newspaper, The Gamma Philosopher. Thanks in great part to the excellent dance bands acquired and the originality of social chairman Mike Davis, parties this year have been the greatest. Members and dates particularly enjoyed by the Apache, Joe College, and Beat UVa. get togethers.

As in the past, Lambda Chi continues to provide outstanding campus leadership . . . Jim Rich, captain of this year's Basketball team and a high point man in the Southern Conference for three years; Bob Bradford, twice winner of the Associated Press Award for the outstanding radio news commentary in Virginia, Sigma Delta Chi, Vice-President of Scabbard and Blade, second in command on R.O.T.C. student staff, organizer and commander of the Gaines Guard; Rudy Knakal, recipient of the Spanish Department Scholarship; Harry Porter, Coordinator of the Christian Council Bible Study groups, honor student, past Speaker of the Forensic Union, President of the Debating team, and Dorm Counselor; Dave Clinger, managing editor of the Ring-tum Phi, secretary of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Editor-in-chief of The Big Wheel; and Pat Patterson, varsity Tennis player, recipient of the R.O.T.C.'s award for the outstanding cadet, and winner of the '52 campus tennis championship.

But above all Gamma Phi's other assets, the brothers place its traditions of service and friendship. These traditions, more than any other qualities, have made Lambda Chi Alpha the outstanding fraternity that it is.

Founded one hundred and six years ago at Washington and Jefferson College, Phi Gamma Delta has long been a stalwart support in the American fraternity system. Eighty-one chapters, eighty graduate chapters and over 55,000 members give ample proof of her growth during a century of progress.

Zeta Deuteron of Phi Gamma Delta was established at Washington and Lee in 1867. The first local fraternity to own its home, the present chapter house is the old Nelson home, which was bought in 1921. The home was remodeled in 1936 to include many specific fraternity necessities and has since remained one of the most beautiful on the W&L campus.

Through the efforts of the Fiji housemother, Miss Laura Bell McCauley, Phi Gam has become synonomous with efficient management and Southern hospitality. "Lolly" has been with the chapter since 1937 and has become as much a part of Fijiland as any initiated brother.

Following World War II, Zeta Deuteron struggled to regain its position of recognition of pre-war days. Returning veterans swelled her ranks and once again the chapter integrated itself into the University tradition. Football games . . . Dance Sets . . . Homecomings . . . The champagne party . . . hell week . . . initiation . . . the Norris Pig Dinner . . . the Fiji Island Party, all of these again became a part of Zeta Deuteron.

Out of Phi Gam's long and full history, come many of America's leaders—educators . . . statesmen . . . clergymen . . . authors . . . scientists . . . and military men. Leadership is easy to define, but the qualities of which are hard to attain. It can only be developed through the proper training of the individual. It is this quality that Phi Gamma Delta has recognized, and Zeta Deuteron has tried to follow.

Sparked this year by several football weekends, the social life of Virginia Beta has been varied and successful. Whether the party is a small informal picnic at Cave Mountain Lake or a jam session for the whole campus, Phi Psi can be counted on to provide the maximum in entertainment, beauty, and relaxation.

Although Frank Parsons still holds the academic honors of the house, he is followed closely by Don Barbe, Art McCain, Charlie Dobbs, Stu Quarngesser and George Denning—all of whom are on the Dean's List. Phi Kappa Psi has not forgotten that college is a place for knowledge and wisdom as well as social and athletic development.

In athletics as in other fields, we show determination to lead rather than follow. With over half of the house wearing varsity letters, the house furnishes leaders to Football, Cross-country, Basketball, Wrestling, Tennis, Baseball, Track, and Lacrosse. In spite of the number of men made ineligible for intramural activity, the house possesses the 1953 Intercollegiate and Intramural trophy and is well on its way toward making this possession permanent.

Virginia Beta is now looking forward to the coming year when it celebrates its centennial as first fraternity on the Washington and Lee campus. As visitors and alumni turn their eyes toward the white house on the hill, Virginia Beta can stand straight and proud, secure in the past, strong in the future.

Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity, founded at the University of Pennsylvania in 1850, was introduced to Washington and Lee in 1894. Looking back over our sixty years on this campus, few years can be found which outmatch the present in fraternity spirit, activities, and contribution of leaders to the University.

In preparation for the school year, numerous improvements were made on the house. A very successful Rush Week saw 18 freshmen pledge Phi Kap.

George Fellows, as President of Opening Dances, gave the W&L social season an auspicious beginning. A formal Christmas house party maintained the Phi Kap tradition of outstanding social events.

As usual Phi Kap produced as many or more varsity athletes as any other house on campus. Bill Dunker, Warren Moody, Joe Lindsey, Roger Bond, and Don Weaver contributed their efforts to the Football team. John Schenkel was a member of the Basketball team's starting five, and Weaver held a position on the Wrestling team. George Fellows, as co-captain, John McDonald, and Sid Negus are expected to bolster the Lacrosse team this Spring. Baseball will see Co-Captain Warren Moody, Joe Lindsey, and Dick Kops back from last season.

In other fields Phi Kap this year has a President of AED, honorary pre-medical fraternity, and Presidents of the Cotillion Club and White Friars. Several members have appeared on the scholastic Honor Roll of the University.

Pi Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha was founded here in 1892. After a short period of inactivity it was refounded in 1901. From that day to this, it has continued growing both in numbers and in spirit.

During its early growing pains the chapter became too large for the old house on Jackson Avenue and moved into its present one in Red Square. This is the largest on the campus, which leaves plenty of room for those big party weekends. During this year the house was improved by the addition of new living room furniture, new gutters, a complete paint job, and new front columns.

Part of the chapter's growth is due to the loyal efforts of her alumni. Among these are three of the Washington and Lee faculty: Mr. Almand Coleman, Dr. Marshall Fishwick, and Dean Clayton Williams. To Dean Williams the fraternity owes a special debt for the more than thirty years he has cheerfully served as alumni counselor.

This year as signs of the chapter's continual development are the many men of PiKA, who have found positions as campus leaders. Athletically there were Bob Delligatti in Football, Barclay Smith in Basketball, and John Freeman in Baseball, who led the team in batting averages. The chapter as a whole won the I-M Volleyball and Basketball trophies and placed well up in intramurals. On publications "Rapid Robert" Cullers was Sports editor of the Ring-tum Phi and Dick Littlejohn was assistant business manager of the Collegian. Politically, Pi was represented by Junior Class President Tom Robbins and Sophomore Class Secretary Sam Werth.

Socially, Pi was able to continue and even expand its tradition of fine parties. The mid-winter shipwreck party, for instance, will long be remembered by those who were there.

The Chapter can confidently look forward to future growth. Confident that the spirit of real fraternal living which exists today will carry it forward into an even more enviable position.

During the war the chapter was inactive. In 1946 a small but extremely active and adept nucleus of old members returned and reactivated the chapter. At that time it was one of smallest houses on campus. Today, a few years later, it is one of the largest.

Pi Kappa Phi can be justly proud of its men who hold high positions in all phases of campus life. Bill Bailey is President of the Student Body. Marv Anderson served as an editor of the Ring-tum Phi. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded at the University of Alabama in March, 1856, by eight students who had become hard and fast friends. Through the energies of its outstanding leaders, the fraternity has expanded in all directions, and its members have taken high and respected positions in society. SAE has over 130 collegiate chapters.

Since its founding in 1867 by Frank Bell Webb, Virginia Sigma Chapter at W&L has grown and prospered on campus. Today the members of Virginia Sigma have gained distinction in every phase of campus activities—scholastic, social, athletic, and extra-curricular leadership.

The Sig Alphs have held a high position in publications over the past several years. This year Bill Jones is President of the Publications Board; Dick Busch is Editor of the CALYX, while Dick Sherrill is Business Manager; Walt Smith is Business Manager of the Southern Collegian.

In sports, the chapter claims Fletcher Lowe as Co-captain of the Lacrosse team and Dick Sherrill as Captain of the Golf team. Greg McNeer and Joe Meals wrestle, while Richard Raines and Jack Dobbs are Freshmen swimmers. Dana Curtis runs Cross-country, and Joe Scales, Jim Mayoza and Don Farris were standouts on the Frosh Football squad. The Sig Alphs, who won the 1952-53 Intramural Championship are again this year an outstanding contender for the award, having copped the I-M Football trophy this fall.

In the political arena, Dick Sherrill is President of the Senior Class, and Bob Paxton Vice-President of the Student Body. Rob Peeples represents the Freshman Class on the Executive Committee. Jap Becker is Vice-President of the Sophomore Class. Serving on the Assimilation and Cold Check Committees are Mike Earp and Ed Givhan, respectively.

With Fletcher Lowe as President of the Dance Board, Virginia Sigma remains active socially at Washington and Lee. A memorable Christmas party was followed by an underprivileged children's party.

With fourteen men on the Dean's List, Virginia Sigma holds its own in scholarship. Two members, Bob Paxton and Harold Quinn, wear Phi Beta Kappa keys, while Dick Harbison and Bob Paxton won scholarships to study abroad.

Dick Busch and Bob Paxton were awarded ODK keys in December. In general activities—Christian Council, Troubadours, Glee Club—the chapter was well represented.

Finishing her fourth year as Housemother, Mrs. Felde Wagner has been a gracious and capable hostess. Dean Gilliam and Dr. Starling have served ably as Faculty Advisors, and Mr. Jay Cook has made an excellent start as the new Financial Advisor.

MRS. C. E. SPENCE	House Mother

Sigma Nu was founded at VMI in 1869. With the establishment of Lambda Chapter on the Washington and Lee campus in 1882, the future of the fraternity was assured. Lambda led in the growth of Sigma Nu and is the oldest chapter in continuous existence. From a modest beginning with three chapters and a few hundred men, Sigma Nu has grown to a position of national leadership with over 120 collegiate chapters and 70,000 members.

Times were hard when Sigma Nu first came to W&L. The chapter occupied a small room over McCrum's. Moving about town during the years, Lambda now owns a modern house on Red Square overlooking the campus.

Always holding a position of leadership Sigma Nu's were outstanding in every field of campus activity during the past year . . . Dave Comegys, ODK, President of the Glee Club, Director of the Band, Dorm Counselor . . . Bob Cross, Editor of the Ring-tum Phi, Phi Beta Kappa . . . Bill Dols, Managing Editor of the CALYX, Dorm Counselor, Veep of Junior Class, Secretary of IFC . . . Carl Swanson, President of "13" . . . Hal Hamilton, President of PAN . . . Ben Benjamin, Editor of the "Mink" and Alumni Magazines . . . Russ Brenneman, Phi Beta Kappa. Sigma Nu was well represented on the athletic field with Gil Bocetti coaching the Varsity backfield . . . Jay Heckman, Dan Giger, Jack Hare, lettering in Football . . . Jerry Fisher, Charlie Gay, and "Mac" MacIntosh lettering in Soccer . . . Tom Kenny and Francis Kalmback lettering in Swimming . . . Jack Hare, star on the Basketball court.

The gracious hospitality of "Mom" Spence and the true bond of fraternity which binds the brothers of Sigma Nu together makes Lambda truly outstanding.

Zeta Beta Tau had its beginning on the Washington and Lee Campus in 1920, as an outgrowth of the Gamma Gamma Club formed in 1919 by six W&L students. Granted a charter by the national fraternity, it became the Alpha Epsilon Chapter.

Since then the chapter has greatly increased in membership and prestige until today it is ranked highly on the campus in all phases of University life.

Again this year thirteen freshmen were pledged, bringing the membership up to forty-four men, all of whom have been active in a wide variety of campus activities. Now, almost every campus activity has at least one ZBT participating in it.

The intramural Football team highlighted the fall season, and came in second in its league in the playoff of a three way time. The playing of Bob Jacobi and coaching of Sid Kaplan and Chuck Rauh were instrumental in this surprising show of power from the ZBTs.

Among the BMOC are Sam Davidson, president of the IFC; Frank Giddon, editor-in-chief of the Southern Collegian; Larry Levitan, President of Spring Dances and also business manager of the Troubadors; and Henry Heymann, Vice-President of Fancy Dress and of Spring Dances. Also Paul Maslansky, as a member and co-director of the famed Southern Collegians has brought renown to the house.

Personal honors in the athletic field go to Chuck Rauh, this year named winner of the national fraternity's outstanding athlete award.

The Zebes rank high on the campus scholastically, topping off in a fitting manner another outstanding year for Alpha Epsilon, and making it possible for what has been said in the past to be repeated.

With the passing of each year, Alpha Epsilon feels that the founders of the Gamma Gamma Club can be proud of the name the chapter has made at Washington and Lee.

Organized in 1947, the SWMSFC instituted fund raising campaigns and activities with hopes of reaching a goal of $10,000 to be used to set up a full tuition scholarship in memory of the W&L students and alumni killed in World War II. The goal was reached in December, 1953, and the group has begun anew to plan for another scholarship fund.

The R.O.T.C. Unit at Washington and Lee has become an integrated part of student life with a large percentage of the students wearing the cadet uniform.

Two officers and two NCO's were added to the Army Staff this year, making a total of 12 army personnel. This is the third year of a four-year cycle of becoming fully established in the University curriculum, with cadet enrollment approximating five hundred.

The R.O.T.C. Band continues to increase with over sixty pieces at present and during the year has played at athletic events, drills, and ceremonies, while also giving several concerts.

A new organization formed this year, the Gaines Guard, was named in honor of the President of Washington and Lee, and participated in Virginia's inaugural parade this year.

Progress continues on the Generals Short Line Association, with model railroaders, both faculty and student taking active part, while the R.O.T.C. rifle team fired in several intercollegiate matches and made a highly commendable record.

This year eighteen fourth-year men will receive their commissions at graduation, and over eighty third-year men will attend summer camp.

JOE LINDSEY
Quarterback

The Generals opened their 1953 Football season September 19, at home with the crushing defeat of Shepherd College, 47-0. The Blue and White fans watched a powerful veteran line tear the Shepherd defenses to pieces, enabling seven of Coach Wise's charges to tally.

Sparked by the fine passing and ball handling of veteran Quarterback Joe Lindsey, the Generals managed to push over for a score the first four times they had their hands on the ball. Indeed it looked like a promising season for the Washington and Lee gridders.

With one victory under their belts the W&L eleven faced the nation's number one team, the University of Maryland, at College Park. Outmanned completely, the Generals were able to penetrate into Terp territory only once, as they toppled to a 52 to 0 defeat at the hand of the Marylanders.

The 35,000 spectators gathered at Byrd Stadium watched the Maryland second stringers romp for three tallys while the Blue and White suffered numerous injuries, including the loss of Captain Bill McHenry and Eddie Landis. It was to prove quite a blow to have lost two such top men early in the season.

NORTH CAROLINA

Following the demoralizing loss to Maryland, the General eleven traveled South to meet the Tar Heels of North Carolina, where they met a similar fate. The Generals managed to out gain the home team 298 yards to 272 yards, but found themselves on the short end of a 39-0 count. Halfback Carl Bolt ripped the Tar Heel line to pieces as he turned in an average of 7.4 yards per carry. The statistics proved interesting and even remarkable as they showed the Generals ahead in every department except the scoring and even further ahead in fumbles. In all, the Big Blue managed to lose the ball eight times, four of which Carolina recovered and capitalized to score upon. Fumbilitis was definitely the star of the day.

October 10 found the Washington and Lee squad in Morgantown facing a strong Mountaineer team. Again it was fumbles that contributed to the loss as the Generals fell 40-12. 14,000 West Virginia fans watched Washington and Lee's sophomore halfback Bill Sargent throw a scare into Art Lewis' boys as he turned in a 12 yard average and contributed to both of the General's touchdowns. His first came on a 47 yard jaunt and the additional six points were added when Sargent threw to end Jack Hare for a tally. Joe Lindsey was the other bright spot in the Blue and White lineup, but suffered injuries in the last quarter and had to be removed from the game.

Six more—but not enough!

CARL BOLT

Returning home the Generals seemed to be enkindled with new spirit as they met the Richmond Spiders, for at halftime the scoreboard showed the Blue on the long end of a 19-7 count. With Bolt scoring twice and Flanders once, and with so far no fumbles, it looked as if Washington and Lee might trip the Spiders. But the hopeful crowd was soon disappointed as Richmond, led by quarterback Theodose, staged a spirited comeback, scored 21 points and took the ball game 27-19. Landis, Weaver, and Lindsey, in spite of the loss, turned in one of their best showings of the season.

The following Saturday Virginia Tech came up with an all too powerful ground attack and swamped the startled Generals 32-12. Behind the passing of quarterback Lindsey, Washington and Lee fought desperately to keep up with the grinding Gobbler backs. Lindsey hit Sargent for a T.D. and after setting the other up on passing, sneaked over for the remaining score. The effort was not enough, however, as the V.P.I. tide kept rolling on, emerging victorious for the first time over the Generals since 1947.

Meeting the George Washington Colonials at Wilson Field the General eleven failed to capitalize on ten GW fumbles, dropping a close and hard fought decision 25-7. Although leading at halftime and early into the third period 7-6, the W&L attack stalled and from this point the Colonials took over. Sloppy tackling by the Blue and White enabled the visitors to rack up 19 points in the final period and push on to victory, darkening what had appeared to be a good day for the faltering Big Blue.

After six long weeks the Generals finally hit the win column, by tromping Davidson College

34-7 at Winston-Salem. Landis, Bolt, Sargent, and Degree produced the tallies on the ground while Joe Lindsey tossed to end Sturgill for the final marker. The Blue and White offense rolled up a total of 307 yards on the ground and Lindsey completed 11 out of 26 passes for 85 yards in the air. From the opening gun the Generals held command and it was not until the final 13 seconds that the Wildcats, due to a fumble deep in Blue territory, were able to hit pay dirt. The victory gave the needed boost to the Washington and Lee outfit as they prepared for the contest the following weekend with the University of Virginia.

A beautiful Indian summer afternoon and 10,000 wildly cheering homecoming fans set the stage for the first Blue and White win over the Wahoos since 1951, as the Generals swept to a 27-13 triumph. Roaring back after being set on their heels when Cavalier halfback Strempek took the opening kickoff and raced 98 yards for a score, the Big Blue were able to push over four big markers in the first period, which were eventually to kill all hopes of a Charlottesville victory party.

Sparked by the elusive running and fine passing of Joe Lindsey and aided by hard charging Carl Bolt, the Generals rolled up a total of 419 yards as compared to 271 for the Virginia squad. Coach Carl Wise's boys proved in front of a hometown crowd, that they had what it took for a win and were not long after to demonstrate it once again.

Coming up against a highly rated William and Mary eleven in the final game of the season, hopes were not too high for victory as the Indians had previously tied Navy, 6-6. At half-time the Generals were holding to a remarkable 7-7 tie, but at this point halfback Carl Bolt caught fire. Taking the opening half kickoff on his own 9 yard line, Bolt weaved his way 91 yards untouched for the score. From that point on, Bolt could not be stopped, chalking up two more tallys before the final gun sounded. The final score; Washington and Lee 33—William and Mary 7.

BASKETBALL

The 1953-54 Basketball team did not produce the much hoped for winning season, but did show a marked improvement over last year, ending the campaign with a 6 and 16 record.

Though most of the defeats were by a considerable margin the season was highlighted by occasional showings of brilliance. Such was the case early in the year when the Generals, facing a powerful Richmond team, produced a fourth quarter rally that came within two points of victory. Another heartening victory scored by the Generals was their triumph over V.P.I., enabling them to go to their first Southern Conference Tournament in several years. In the first game of the tournament the Blue and White met nationally ranked George Washington. What happened in the next hour was remarkable.

McHenry breaks down court

Topp goes up for two

At half time the W&L cagers led by two points and maintained the lead until the final period when Jim Rich fouled out and the Colonials caught fire, surging ahead 76-64. It was one of the most exciting of the set of games to be played in Morgantown.

Coach McCann must be given credit for his fine coaching despite the dismal record. Midway through the season he lost three of his starting line up, Charlie Topp, Stu Atkinson, and John Schenkel due to scholastic reasons. The impressive near upset of GW was a tribute to his coaching ability.

Captain Jim Rich ended his basketball career at Washington and Lee averaging nearly 20 points per game and being selected for second string on the All-Tournament Team. Rich was twice All-Southern Conference and Big Six.

Other outstanding performances were displayed by Bob McHenry who received honorable mention in the Southern Conference this season, Dick Skolnik, Butch Callaway, and Ken Groeneveld.

WRESTLING

For the first time in three years Washington and Lee's Wrestling team produced a winning season, the only varsity team on campus to achieve that feat. Under the coaching of Dick Miller the matmen scored victories over Duke, North Carolina and Davidson, climaxing the season with a crushing defeat of the Wahoos, 22-8.

Sophomores John Ellis and Gibby McSpadden each turned in a fine season suffering only a single defeat. Ellis' only defeat came in the semi-finals of the Southern Conference Tournament, while McSpadden continued the season capturing the 167 lb. class crown in the annual event and also received the award for the tournament's outstanding wrestler.

Seniors Jack Sites and Chuck Rauh turned in winning seasons with Rauh making the finals of the Southern Conference Tournament. In addition to Rauh, Bill Northrop also made the finals but failed to win his final bout.

1953 BASEBALL

When Coach Billy McCann called the beginning of practice for the diamond sport last spring, there were many new faces that appeared on Smith Field. Being new on the scene himself and hampered by the loss of most of the previous season's regulars by graduation, he was faced with the same remodeling job that so many coaches have to cope with. As the weeks rolled on the team developed into one of the most spirited and scrappy outfits that has ever represented Washington and Lee.

The team began its season, as usual, by taking a trip during Spring vacation, encountering three foes. Two of these, Camp Lejeune and Cherry Point were service teams with many professional athletes on their rosters. Finding these opponents a little too tough to handle, they suffered losses by small margins in both cases. The Generals then moved on to Wake Forest, North Carolina, where they met the much subsidized Deacons. The tables were completely reversed in this encounter as the Blue and White emerged with an impressive two-run victory.

As the season moved on, the tide began to turn as the powerful Southern Conference teams handed Coach McCann's charges numerous losses. The Blue and White aggregation did, however, take two victories over William and Mary by 7-5 and 6-2 counts, defeated Richmond 3-2 and handed Delaware a decisive trouncing.

The highlights of the season were not evident upon the score board. In two games with Maryland, the eventual Southern Conference champs, the Generals fought the mighty Terrapins down to the wire, only to be defeated by 1-0 and 7-5 scores. In the first game, a pitchers' duel, Steve Schlossman hurled a one hitter for the Generals, only to lose to Ronnie Hemphill's two hit effort for the Terps.

Slugging John Freeman led the Blue and White attack throughout the year and along with Schlossman received a berth on the All-State team. The remainder of the team found Warren Moody catching, Jack Haver, "Tink" Williams, Joe Lindsey, and Lowell Hamric in the infield, Dick Kops, Paul Weinstein, and Freeman as outfielders and "Ty" Janney, Buddy Dey, Ed Nulton, Gamble, and Schlossman handling most of the pitching duties.

Henderson heads goalward

Though for a period lacking a coach, a surprising amount of interest was shown by Washington and Lee's Soccer team. The squad, headed by Co-Captains Lucky Denu and Jim Lewis, worked on their own until the appointment of Norm Lord as coach, sometime after the season had begun.

It is a tribute to Norm Lord that he was able to mold the squad into a working unit by the opening game with Virginia. Though playing a spirited game the booters lacked last year's punch, going down to defeat at the hands of the Wahoos 5-0. The team was never able to regain its equilibrium as they failed to produce a win for the rest of their nine game season. In the final game the booters nearly came through with a victory as they held high scoring Maryland, the Atlantic Coast Champs, to only three goals.

"Stumpy" Johnson, in spite of injuries, was a stalwart member of the forward line, as were Jerry Fisher and Rody Davies. Bob Beale and Carl Bailey were also standouts at their respective positions of goalie and halfback.

Selected as the most valuable player this year was Jim Lewis while Carl Bailey received the honor as the most improved player.

SWIMMING

For the thirty-third year Cy Twombly, who was appointed late in the year to succeed Captain Dick Smith as University Athletic Director, took over the reins of the swimming teams. Looking back over all these years of coaching the water sport, this was to be one of Twombly's darkest. Due largely to the loss of seniors from last year's squad and the absence of several other competitors for various reasons, a varsity team was almsot non-existent.

The men who did stick by the squad worked throughout the year with a balanced and promising Freshman team. Together they swam a practice meet with Catholic University from Washington, D. C., winning 66-19.

The only bright spot in the season for the veterans was a trip by three of them to the Southern Conference meet at Blacksburg. From the trio of Dan Dickenson, Frank Guenther, and Guy Smith, only Dickenson was to reach the qualifying round with his 100 yard free-style in 58:02.

Little may be gained by looking back over the uneventful season and we can only look ahead with Twombly to what promises to be a new era in swimming here at Washington and Lee with the vast amount of material coming up from the Freshman Team.

LACROSSE

Although lacking the experience needed to field a powerful club, the scrappy W&L Lacrosse team put up a terrific fight against perhaps the toughest schedule they could have played. For four consecutive games the Generals wound up on the short end of the score to such powerhouses as the University of Maryland, Swarthmore, Richmond Lacrosse Club, and Baltimore University, only to bounce back and defeat North Carolina and Western Maryland. The highlight of the season was not in one of the winning contests, however. This came when the team traveled to Charlottesville to play the National Champions, the University of Virginia. The Cavaliers were favorites by a terrific margin, but the spirited Generals staved them off for three periods in a seesaw battle, only to succumb finally to a Wahoo barrage which netted the latter six goals.

Much praise must be given to the student coach, Ken Spence, who stepped right into the vacancy left by Ben Collins to build the team into what was eventually a well-knit unit. The play of Ross Wagner and Fletcher Lowe, both candidates for All-American honors was outstanding throughout the season.

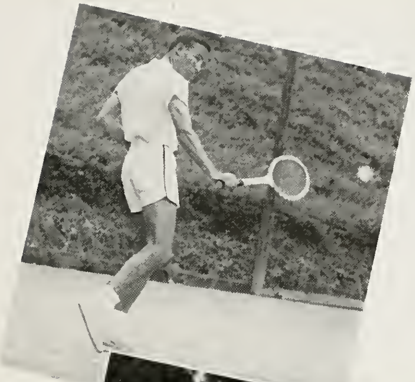
TENNIS



Faced with the loss of all but two lettermen, Washington and Lee's Tennis team was able to come up with only three wins in their eight scheduled matches. Don Barbe and Doc Hollowell combined to form a strong nucleus, but Coach Jim Farrar could not find enough experienced players to back them up. Murphy and Falk had seen action during their freshman years, but had not played since then. Due to the small turnout five freshmen formed the backbone of the team, turning in some fine performances and gaining the experience which promises to be a great aid to next year's team.

The lack of good doubles teams cost the Blue several close matches last season, since none of the squad members had played together before and were not able to combine their efforts until the end of the year. The loss of the first three matches to Colgate, William and Mary, and Virginia, could be attributed to the General's weakness in this department. Later in the campaign when the right combinations were found the Blue and White came up with two victories over Hampden-Sydney and a decisive win over V.P.I.

With only Hollowell gone from the '53 squad and Captain Don Barbe with several promising sophomores returning, Coach Farrar is looking to a big improvement in the coming season.

GOLF

The 1953 season again proved to be most successful for Coach Cy Twombly's linksters. Following the example set for them by the great teams of 1950 and 1951, this year's squad brought back to Lexington another State Championship, and also posted one of the most outstanding records a Washington and Lee golf team has ever had.

Paced by the fine overall play of Frank McCormick and Dave Weinberg, the Generals were able to compile a low score of 624 in the State Tournament at Hot Springs, some 25 strokes less than the total of second place V.M.I., to easily cop the trophy. Throughout the rest of the year, defeat was tasted only three times by the Blue and White, these all being by a narrow margin, and every team in the state was defeated at least once by W&L.

It is difficult to single out any one individual for high praise, since every member of the team contributed more than his share towards the over all success of the squad. Many of these men will be back again for next year's competition, and hopes are that this factor will make 1954 another championship year.

CROSS-COUNTRY

The Washington and Lee Harriers under the able coaching of Dick Miller turned in a well rounded season. Though winning only two, defeating U. Va. and Hampden-Sydney, the squad was close behind the winning teams and in the Big Six meet placed second behind VMI.

The Harriers were led by Captain Walt Diggs who highlighted the season by capturing the Big Six meet in 20:56, far ahead of the nearest man. Close behind Diggs throughout the season were Keith Belch and Watty Bowes, both of whom will be returning next year.

TRACK

For the first time in two years Washington and Lee's Track squad was under the direction of a qualified and University paid coach. With Coach Dick Miller at the helm the cindermen were able to pull themselves out of last year's doldrums to post a two win and four loss season. However unimpressive this might seem, it was a great improvement over the previous year's winless record.

All was not gloom for the thinclads, however, as such individual stars as Walt Diggs, Walt Henes, and Harry Kennedy held their own in Big Six Competition. Diggs placed second in the Big Six meet with a jump of 12' 9" to set a university record. Walt Henes was a consistent winner in the mile events throughout the season, and Kennedy showed up well in the hurdles.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Frosh romp to victory in the snow

For the first time in three years, Washington and Lee fielded a Freshman Football team, headed this season by Coach Billy McCann. The Baby Generals played a five-game schedule, which included games with the University of Richmond, Hargrave Military Academy, University of Virginia, and Emory and Henry.

The split "T," as used by the varsity, was taught to the 23 yearlings who turned out for the opening practice. Though the squad was small and hampered by injuries, it came through its schedule on the winning side of the ledger with a 3-2 record.

The Frosh tasted defeated at the hands of the University of Richmond squad in their first game of the season, 31 to 21, but what the score did not indicate was the loss of Guard Bob Miller with a leg injury. The following week Scales, a flashy halfback, led the way to a 34-0 triumph over Hargrave Military Academy, scoring three touchdowns. The Blue and White's second defeat was at the hands of a strong Cavalier squad by a 30-7 margin.

The season ended on a happy note with victories over Emory and Henry and the Spiders of Richmond by scores of 12-2 and 18-7, respectively. The Emory and Henry game marked the loss of Guard Dan Giger and End Bill Kauffman. Despite the plague of injuries and the small size of the squad, the Frosh showed by their winning record and fighting spirit that they will be a great asset to Coach Carl Wise in the future.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

The record of seven wins and five losses compiled by this year's Freshman Basketball squad would seem to indicate a mediocre team. However, upon examining the statistics more closely, we find this is far from the truth.

In only one of their losses were the Frosh cagers outscored by more than five points, and that defeat was at the hands of a powerful University of North Carolina team. Three of the setbacks were by two-point margins in nip and tuck contests.

The V.P.I. Spiders, with a squad that averaged 6'4" in heighth and was considered one of the best Frosh aggregations in the state, were the only five to defeat the Brigadiers twice, and were hard pressed in doing so both times.

Before hitting their stride in midseason, the Little Generals won two and lost three, trampling the University of Virginia and Radford High, while succumbing to Staunton Military Academy, University of North Carolina and V.P.I.

A string of five straight victories followed, with the Blue trouncing Greenbriar Military School, S.M.A., Greenbriar again, U.V.A. and Massanutten.

Hampered at the end of the season by the loss of key players via injuries, grade trouble, and sickness, the Frosh dropped their last two games in the dying seconds by identical 74-72 scores to V.P.I. and Emory and Henry.

Through the whole campaign, the sparkling play of 6'5" Lee Marshall stood out. "Big Lee" averaged 25 markers in the twelve games played and hit for a phenomenal 43 points against the Cadets from Greenbriar. Other outstanding performers, such as Milt Winewar, Herb Hummers, Charlie Mochwart, and Lee Swan, gave good indication of a bright future for W&L in basketball.

Washington and Lee's Freshman Swimming team finished the season with an impressive five and two won-lost record. Their only losses were at the hands of Staunton Military Academy and the Norfolk Division of William and Mary, a junior college.

In their first meet, an informal encounter with the V.M.I. Rats, the Frosh won convincingly, 50-25. They followed up with two consecutive wins over Augusta Military in a home and home series. In their next meet, the Baby Generals made it four wins in a row with a rousing 56-19 win over the Catholic University yearlings, however, they absorbed their first defeat in the next contest to the extension of William and Mary. With a one-point margin going into the final event, the Frosh were nosed out by three when the Indian's relay team won in a photo finish. They got back on the winning path in their next encounter by routing the William and Mary freshmen, 55-20, and then dropped their last meet of the season to a strong S.M.A. team.

The Baby Generals made a fine showing in the Freshman Division of the Southern Conference meet by grabbing a first and a third in the only two events held. The medley team, composed of Jay Fox, Frank Kalmbach, and Richard Raines, won first, while the relay team got show money.

Coach Cy Twombly singled out star breast-stroker Jay Fox as the backbone of the team. Fox was undefeated in the breast stroke for the entire season, and he set several pool records. Twombly also had many compliments for diver Bill Dalzell and back-stroker Frank Kalmbach. Dalzell won first place in every meet except one, which was won by Charley Richardson. Kalmbach made fine showings throughout the season in the backstroke and was a member of the championship medley team along with Fox and Raines. Twombly had much praise for the entire team and said that the varsity should be tough to beat next year with the help of the freshman outfit.

The Frosh Soccer team, a spirited group of twenty men, could be seen on the field each fall afternoon diligently practicing under the watchful eye of Student Coach "Moose" Schafer. Though handicapped by a late start and a small squad, the Blue and White booters showed much promise in the games they played.

The Cavaliers from U.Va. measured our boys twice, by margins of 2-1 and 3-2, but as the close scores indicate, the losers were far from outclassed. To close the short season, the Junior Generals ran wild over the V.M.I. Cadets, rolling up a 4-1 victory in a thrilling game.

To keep busy and to gain valuable experience, the Frosh frequently scrimmaged the varsity eleven and always showed up well in these encounters.

FRESHMAN CROSS COUNTRY

The Baby Generals finished a very successful season with four wins and only one loss, plus a third place in the Bix Six Meet.

Paull Palmer was the leading runner for the freshmen, suffering his only loss of the year in the Big Six meet where he finished a close second. In their first meet of the year, the freshmen, led by Palmer's first place, won a triangular meet from V.P.I. and William and Mary.

The squad showed some fine depth as they won a convincing victory from Lynchburg without the services of Palmer, who was competing in the Junior Division of the Virginia AAU meet, in which he grabbed first place. Walt Cremin, Charlie Duffy, and Dana Curtis finished in a three-way deadlock for first, followed by Dick Crutchfield, who took fifth place.

The Frosh suffered their only loss to V.M.I. in a close 28-30 contest. Palmer again took top honors, but his effort was not enough as the Cadets came on strong at the finish to take a hard won victory.

The high point of the year for the squad was their overwhelming victory over the U.Va. yearlings. Palmer, Cremin, and Duffy crossed the finish line together, to give the Generals the first three places, and Curtis put on a brilliant finish to edge the Wahoo's first man for fourth.

Coach Miller was very pleased with the team's showing and expects several of the members to stand out for the varsity next year. Miller awarded numerals to Palmer, Cremin, Duffy, Curtis, Crutchfield, Jim Easley, Jim Seabrook, Dave Kellogg, George Gee, Trafford Hill, Jerry Susskind, and Cal Conger.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Washington and Lee upholds one of the most active student sponsored athletic programs in the South. Within it are all types of competitive sports, including many individual participation sports that attract every type character and personality. Intramural sports give the different social fraternities as well as a faculty and non-fraternity group their chance to prove their athletic prowess against each other and increase their fraternity and overall school spirit.

Under the able direction of Norm Lord and Senior Manager Don West, the program includes such activities as touch-football, wrestling, basketball, volleyball, handball, ping-pong, swimming, tennis, bowling, golf, softball, track, and the "Sports Carnival."

Spring Dances

Warm, pleasant spring weather, three top bands, and an array of beautiful dates from all points of the compass arrived in Lexington just in time to make Spring Dances the enjoyable occasion that it was. Decorations were reminiscent of the ante-bellum South as scenes from an old plantation graced the gym.

At a gay, entertaining lawn party given on Friday afternoon by the Sigma Nus, in honor of set president Jay Jackson, Johnny Guaranieri and his quintet gave out with some excellent jazz and piano stylings. At the "Old South Ball" on Friday night, Sy Oliver and his orchestra played from a Spanish moss covered terrace as Spring Dance President Jackson and Miss Helen Hatch led the figure, which included Vice-Presidents Bill Bailey, Carl Swanson, John Isaacs, and John Bowman, followed by the members of the Cotillion Club and their dates.

On Saturday afternoon two sporting events, the Varsity-Alumni football game and later a Lacrosse game with the University of Baltimore, were held.

An informal dance was held Saturday night with Blue Barron and his orchestra, as the Junior Class officers marched to the strains of the "Music of Yesterday and Today."

As the weekend came to an end we turned back to classes, our only regret being that this weekend of dates, music, parties, and Goshen could not have lasted 'till June.

To the tune of champagne corks, "Auld Lang Syne," the tempting waters of Goshen Pass, and the music of Charlie Spivak and Jerry Gray, Washington and Lee bade farewell to the graduating class of 1953. We put away our books for the summer and let our fancy lightly turn to thoughts of dates, dancing, and those final capers that are a part of every seniors last days.

The festivities began with a cocktail party on Wednesday afternoon given by the Pi Kappa Alphas in honor of Ben Martin, President of Finals Dances.

Charlie Spivak and his orchestra provided the music for the first night's formal dance as Miss Betty Byrne Gill escorted by Ben Martin with Vice-Presidents Bud Hoos, Monte Pearse, Fletcher Lowe, Henry Heymann, and Pete Carter and their dates led the figure. The theme "Mobile Madness" provided an entirely new and delightful concept in decorations. Simplicity and modernism prevailed as a mobile structure representing the four divisions of the university—liberal arts, commerce, science, and law, and the four aspects of campus life, academic activity, social, and athletic, was flanked by two abstract murals along the walls of the gym.

The Senior Class figure was held Thursday night to the music of Jerry Gray and his orchestra, as the class of 1953 participated for the last time in the campus life here at Washington and Lee; and the social season of 1952-53 came to a climactic end.

Opening Dances

The spirit of Halloween prevailed as Washington and Lee's 1953-54 social season was opened by one of the fullest and most enjoyable dance weekends in many years. The theme, Charles Addams' "Monster Rally," was carried out by the presentation of several of Addams' ghoulish cartoons, which were in grotesque harmony with the holiday spirit.

The first event of the weekend was the opening party Friday afternoon, given at the Mayflower Hotel by Phi Kappa Sigma in honor of set president, George Fellows.

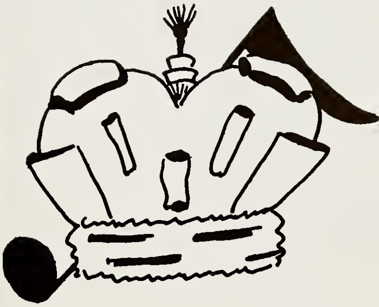
A pep rally at the gym in preparation for the George Washington football game on Saturday preceded the formal dance Friday night, when music was provided by Buddy Morrow and his band. In the figure, President George Fellows with Miss Margaret Burke, Vice-Presidents Harry Ford, Oppie Pollard, Gene Earnhardt, Ducky Drake, and Chuck Rauh, and the members of the Cotillion Club marched, accompanied by their dates, among the weirdly delightful atmosphere created in the spirit of Charles Addams and Halloween.

Following the football game on Saturday afternoon, Buddy Morrow and his orchestra entertained with a concert in the gym.

Topping off the weekend with the "Masked Monster Rally" Saturday night, at which the big beat of Buddy Morrow was again enjoyed by the many masked couples who filled the dance floor.

These many festivities and events combined to make the Opening Dance weekend an unforgettable occasion for all Washington and Lee students and their dates.

Fancy Dress goes to the Mardi Gras



New Orleans, with all the pageantly and gaiety of Mardi Gras, was recreated in Doremus Gym for the Ball of King Rex, one of the most beautiful, impressive, and elaborate Fancy Dress Balls in recent history. A multiplicity of colorful costumes, the superb decorations, and the magnificent figure heightened the splendour of the occasion.

At the Mayflower Hotel on Friday afternoon a cocktail party was given by the Betas in honor of Fancy Dress President Beau Redmond. Music here as usual was played by Brian Shanley and his Southern Collegians. On Friday night, with the music of Dean Hudson, the resplendent ball was held as Beau Redmond, King of Misrule, proclaimed an end to worldly cares and dedicated the evening to fun and dancing in honor of Her Highness, Queen Sue Toledano. Vice-Presidents Jim Reeder, Henry Heymann, Pegram Harrison, Monte Pearce, and John Howard and their dates, with a host of maskers, joined in the pageantry of the figure.

On Saturday a most interesting art exhibit and series of films sponsored by the Fine Arts Department, was followed by a concert given by the long awaited Ray Anthony and his orchestra. The Anthony music makers performed many of their popular recording hits to the delight of the tremendous crowd present. The Junior Class figure was held at the formal dance Saturday night as couples danced mid the atmosphere of New Orleans at Mardi Gras time. The events of this spectacularly beautiful and delightful weekend again proved Fancy Dress to be the outstanding college social event in the South.
